Four Hancock houses burn during Fire Prevention Week

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Five houses in Hancock County are destroyed as the result of recent fires of reported electrical or accidental origin. Ironically, four of these blazes occurred during Fire Prevention Week here, Oct. 9-15.

FARVE STREET FIRE
A smoldering cigarette on a living room sofa is the cause of Monday morning three-alarm fire which virtually destroyed the home of Lewis Ellis Sr.

on Favre Street in the Shoreline Park area, Ed Friloux of Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad reported Wednesday.

Friloux said all but a small portion of the two-bedroom house was destroyed. He reported evidence discovered in the charred remnants clearly indicated the cause.

William Field Jr., East Hancock County Volunteer Fire Department administrative chief, said Wednesday that Ellis was at work when the blaze was reported by neighbors at about 11:05 a.m.

He said the house was secluded by a densely wooded area, but neighbors heard the fire's crackling sound and discovered the burning structure.

The Waveland and Bay St. Louis Fire Departments responded to the scene with the East Hancock volunteers and completely extinguished the blaze after about a two-hour fire fight, Field reported.

He noted each fire department pumper was filled twice with water to provide more than 3,200 gallons to snuff out the fire since no fire hydrants are available in that area.

CAIN STREET INFERNO

An accidental kitchen fire is cited as cause of another three-alarm blaze which destroyed a two-story structure Saturday owned by Tom Cain on Cain Street in the Watts Bayou area.

Friloux said the fire occurred in the kitchen of the first floor apartment where Raymond Thurber resided. He reported Thurber was home at the time of the blaze in addition to Cain and his wife, Jeannette who both lived in his second-story apartment and were being visited by their son, Bruce and daughter-in-law, Debbie.

All escaped as the flames rapidly consumed the structure.

Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana and Firefighter Jim Gaudet were both injured in the blaze.

But Lizana said Wednesday that both he and Gaudet are back on duty and ready for another fire fight.

A Leetown Community residence was leveled Friday night in a two-alarm blaze.

Jury deliberating Jordan murder case

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The fate of Henry Paul Jordan, charged with the murder of a Waveland contractor, was placed in the hands of a seven-woman, five-man, all-white Hancock Circuit Court jury early Wednesday evening.

Testimony ended Wednesday at about 2:40 p.m.

The case went to the jury about 5 p.m. Wednesday after summations by state and defense attorneys and instructions from Judge J. Ruble Griffin.

Jordan, 32, a resident of Waveland and former auxiliary policeman for the Bay St. Louis Police Department, is charged with killing the Rev. Robert Hargett at Hargett's construction company office on US-90 West in Waveland Nov. 12, 1981.

An earlier trial in April, 1982 presided over by Judge James Thomas resulted in a mistrial.

The current trial began on Monday with the selection of a special venire jury requested by defense attorney Boyce Holleman. From a pool of 72 jurors, a group of seven white women and five white men was chosen to hear the case. Jordan is black, as was Hargett.

Whether Jordan is found guilty or not will depend on whether the jury believes, as assistant district attorney John C. (Sonny) Johnson claims, that Jordan shot and killed Hargett deliberately and with malice; or whether Jordan shot Hargett in self-defense, as Holleman claimed in his opening statement to the jury.

On the witness stand in his own defense, Jordan testified that he did not know whose hand was on the .38 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver when it was fired four times, hitting Jordan's wife Florence in the left hip and killing Hargett.

Jordan testified that Hargett grabbed him from behind when he entered the construction company office and found Hargett and Florence together, that Hargett attempted to remove the gun from Jordan's holster and that they "tussled" for it.

In presenting his case for the state, Johnson said that Jordan, who was on his way back to the Bay police station after working a football game at Tiger Stadium, recognized the number of his license plate when a Waveland police dispatcher read the number over the police radio and reported that the car was parked behind Hargett's place of business; that he returned to the Bay PD, turned in his vehicle and subsequently went to the construction company; kicked in the door, found his wife with Hargett and shot them both.

Following the snoring, Jordan telephoned the Bay PD to obtain the telephone number of the Waveland PD, then called the Waveland PD to report the shooting and request an ambulance. Waveland Patrolman Charles (Chuck) James, who initially discovered the Jordan Thunderbird and inquired about its ownership, was sent back to the scene after Jordan reported the shooting.

He testified that Hargett's body was attired only in a white tee-shirt and white socks when the police arrived.

NSTL Visitors Center groundbreaking slated

Groundbreaking ceremonies for an addition to the Visitors Center at the National Space Technology Laboratories are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

George Williams, director of tourism for the Mississippi Department of Economic Development, will be the guest speaker. Williams was recently appointed executive director of the Mississippi World's Fair Council Inc.

Jerry Hase, NSTL director, will also speak at the ceremony, which is open to the public.

The 4,500-square-foot addition adjacent to the existing facility will be constructed by Tilley Constructors and Engineers Inc. of Gulfport, Miss.

The expansion and enhancement of the NSTL visitors facilities has been prompted by increasing numbers of public visitors and in preparation for the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition in nearby New Orleans.

With over 90,000 visitors last year, the NSTL Hancock County scientific center is fast becoming one of the top visitor attractions in Mississippi.

NSTL has gained national and international prominence as the nation's rocket test center. The Space Shuttle main engines undergo developmental and acceptance testing at the Center before the spaceship is launched from the Kennedy Space Center.

Visitors to NSTL are given the opportunity to view engine test firings in the Space Shuttle Test Complex when the tests are conducted during the Center's operating hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each weekday except holidays.

The visitors program also includes guided tours of the 13,500-acre Center as well as live demonstrations and current films shown in the 250-seat auditorium.

Indoor and outdoor displays depict the roles of NASA and NSTL's resident agencies and visitors can view the Center from atop the 90-foot "Space Tower."

There is no charge for the tour program and cameras are allowed.

The Center is easily accessible from Interstates 10 and 59. For more information about the visitor program, write the NSTL Public Affairs Office, NSTL, MS 39529, or call (601) 688-2321 or 688-2370.

Three-car US-90 wreck injures two

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Two people were injured Monday in a three-car accident at the US-90 and North Beach Boulevard intersection in Bay St. Louis.

Charles A. Morales, 84, of Metairie, La. was treated at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis for chin and hand lacerations, multiple abrasions, and hospitalized for observation until Tuesday, Mary Perkins, HGH public relations director reported Wednesday.

Lynette Ferguson, 32, of 406 Dawn Ave. in Pass Christian was treated at the hospital for a forehead laceration and released Monday, Perkins said.

Brenda Anderson, Bay St. Louis Police Department administrative officer, said Wednesday that the three-car accident was reported at about 7:57 a.m.

She said Morales was cited with failure to yield in the mishap.

Balf G. Ohlin of Newtown, Penn. was traveling south on the boulevard and had apparently stopped at the intersection for a red light, Anderson reported.

Morales was apparently turning north on the boulevard from the east-bound highway turning lane on a green light and Ferguson was driving her car westward on US-90 and also reported she observed a green light, Anderson said.

The front of the Ferguson car struck the passenger side of the Morales vehicle which then collided with the Ohlin auto, the administrative officer explained.

There were no passengers in any of the cars, she added.

She reported the Bay department for the last three years has repeatedly asked the State Highway Department to install a left turn signal for the eastbound highway traffic.

She noted that the westbound highway lanes have a left turn signal, but highway department officials feel there is not enough traffic to justify installing a turning arrow for the eastbound lanes.

Responding to the accident scene were Sgt. Joe Pica and Patrolman Judy Childs, both of the police department; Mobile Medic emergency medical technicians; Bay Fire Department personnel; and N.A. Pernicelli and Son Wrecker Service.

PAINFUL STIFF NECKS

Dr. Wm. L. POWELL

The muscles of the neck become spastic, stiff and painful in movement. These attacks are usually sudden in occurrence, such as upon arising in the morning from bed, a sudden twist or jar or fall or even drafts, exercise and strenuous work may bring on such a condition. Research in our field shows that people are susceptible to these conditions because of a basic underlying spinal problem. One that may have been present over a period of time without symptoms, but to weakening the stability of the spinal column that, at the right moment, involvement with a jolt or twist brings about acute pain in the neck or back! These conditions are best cared for by a complete examination and spinal x-rays to determine the exact cause and best approach for the utilization of chiropractic adjustments to assure prompt relief and correction.

Why We Are Building A New Hospital...

The construction of a new hospital for Hancock County has been much in the news lately. In order to clarify many points and questions being asked by the public, the Hancock General Hospital Board of Trustees would like to take this means to answer some of these questions.

Did You Know

1. Hancock General Hospital was built in 1960 as a 36-bed facility, with support services for those 36 beds. In 1964, 20 additional beds were added, but no provisions were made to expand the support services.

2. The present facility utilizes 29,700 square feet of space, but current services and needed additional services require at least 65,000 square feet of space.

3. At the present facility, there is a traffic problem due to a lack of improvements to Dunbar Avenue and the traffic from the elementary school across the street. The shopping center at Dunbar Avenue and Highway 90 has created additional traffic problems.

4. During Hurricane Camille in 1969, Hancock General did not receive any flood waters, but became inaccessible due to flood waters filling lowlying areas surrounding the hospital and blocking access roads.

5. According to a building evaluation study done in 1981 by Nix, Mann and Associates, Inc., of Atlanta, Georgia, by request of Hospital Corporation of America, the electrical systems and equipment at Hancock General were found to be in relatively poor condition. Repair and updating would be difficult in many instances due to inaccessibility of parts and ceilings.

6. The mechanical systems in the present building, according to the same study, are 17-23 years old, approaching or exceeding the normal life expectancy of most of the equipment. It is not unreasonable to have major expenditures to replace or make major repairs to the equipment within the next few years.

7. According to an economic profile of Hancock County prepared by the Mississippi Research and Development Center, population in the county is estimated to increase from 24,592 to 32,000, or 18%, by 1990. Bay St. Louis, with a present population of 7,850, will see an estimated 20% increase to 9,850. Waveland, with 4,223 now, will increase to approximately 6,000, or 30%. Therefore, a new facility should be located in the most heavily populated geographical area, which is the twin cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

8. Renovation of the present building would take two years, during which time the hospital could not be operational due to a disruption of services and personnel. There would also be no improvement in flow patterns, and the old systems would be difficult to change due to the present layout, i.e., use of the main corridor for visitors, emergency equipment, post-surgery and delivery patients, location of the nursery, etc.

9. In order to correct the deficiencies in the present building, it would cost approximately $4.5 million, while the addition of 30,000 square feet would cost another $4.5 million, and these figures do not include the cost of new equipment, estimated at $4 million, or the financing cost itself.

Conclusion:

Therefore, a new hospital facility is necessary according to the following major reasons:

A. The cost of upgrading the present facility.

B. The difficulty of adding to the existing structure.

C. The age of the original building and systems.

D. The potential benefits of relocating the hospital on a site which would be closer to the geographically most populated areas of the community which it serves.

E. The lack of disruption of health care services during construction.

Bay officials eyeing school construction, renovation in $2.5 million bond issue

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District officials are considering proposed new construction and renovation projects.

J.D. McCullough, superintendent of education, said Tuesday that the proposals will require a referendum to allow funding through a tax increase and issuance of $2.5 million in general obligation bonds.

The District Board of Trustees met in special session Monday night to establish construction priorities and their feasibility based on funding limitations and need.

McCullough and other administrators suggested five priorities. Fred Wagner, district architect, agreed to finalize cost estimates of these which include:

—Purchasing eight acres for and constructing a new 14-classroom elementary school to serve students primarily residing in the Shoreline Park area;

—Installing air conditioning and new windows at North Bay Elementary School;

—Installing air conditioning and its electrical service wiring, new windows and first floor flooring at Bay Junior High School;

—Construction of a Bay Senior High School fine arts building to house the band, chorus and art classes;

—Construction of a parking lot at Waveland Elementary School;

—Construction of a track at Tiger Stadium.

Wagner estimated the cost of a 12-room school at about $1.4 million, but Donald Caldwell, assistant superintendent, suggested 14 rooms be built to accommodate the state's new kindergarten program to begin in 1986 and allow the district to return to its system of one through sixth-grade elementaries, grades seven through nine at the junior high and grades 10 through 12 at the senior high.

Several grades were recently shifted among the schools due to deteriorating facilities and crowded conditions.

Frank Ladner, assistant high school principal, urged that facilities be considered for the district's growing number of handicapped students.

The architect agreed to revise his estimate to include the suggestions and property purchase amounts.

McCullough suggested that eight acres be purchased near US-90.

The superintendent said Tuesday that he suggested that highway area due to the availability of large land parcels there, relatively high elevations, easy access and location central to expected student population.

He did not know the exact number of students attending Bay schools from the Shoreline area, but noted the state requires that land for each new school building be a least five acres plus one acre for every 100 students.

Property in the US-90 area averages about $20,000-per-acre, he reported.

McCullough said the State Educational Finance Commission might provide some funds to build the new school. He expected, if approved by voters, the new school would be ready for students by the fall of 1988.

At the Monday night meeting, Walter Turcotte, board president, suggested a school site selection committee consist of the trustees, two administrators and two teachers.

But McCullough feels two "citizens from the community" should be included in the committee rather than teachers.

The superintendent said the majority of parent complaints deal with present overcrowded classrooms and lack of air conditioning.

"That's what sells a bond issue," he stated.

Wagner estimated the cost of North Bay air conditioning at $190,000 and window replacement at $109,400.

Roger James, North Bay principal, agreed with Turcotte that for energy efficiency the worn out windows should be replaced before the air conditioning is installed.

Wagner estimated the junior high air conditioning installation at $326,060 and new windows to replace those worn out ones at $98,000.

But he noted that installation of the new energy-saving windows would allow a reduction in air conditioning costs.

Wagner agreed to recalculate the cost of installing both air conditioning and windows in addition to estimating the flooring replacement price.

Ladner and W.J. Cameron, school principal, both urged the board to replace first floor flooring which is collapsing in several areas.

Regarding the fourth recommendation, McCullough stated: "We are also trying to get a building for a band hall, the chorus and art."

McCullough said several board workshop meetings, open to the public, should be conducted to gather information regarding band, chorus and art class building interior construction requirements.

The superintendent said the fine arts building would be constructed at the senior high, but would not be the $1.7 million round building.

That combined auditorium and fine arts facility was originally proposed as a twin structure to the present Tiger Dome gymnasium.

Ladner, Magee, McCullough and Turcotte all agreed a relatively inexpensive prefabricated metal building would be adequate for the fine arts facility.

Magee added that acoustic treatment would be needed in the band room.

Wagner reported he had previously designed a band facility for the district.

He said a metal building's facade could be designed to appear as a conforming element of the existing high school building.

Turcotte suggested that Magee, Ladner and the school band director visit local schools to determine music room construction needs.

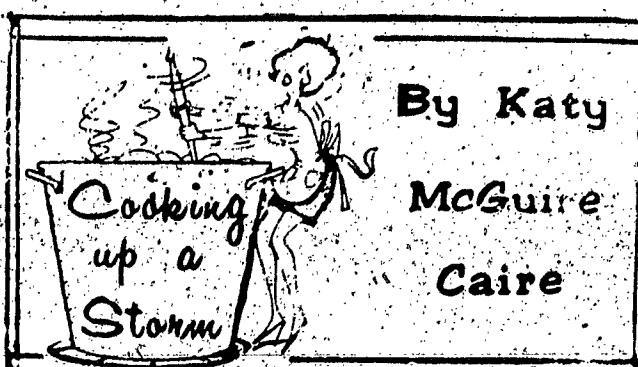

The superintendent said he receives numerous requests for the addition of art courses at the school.

McCullough said the Waveland elementary parking lot is estimated at $6,000 and the stadium track would cost about $80,000.

Wagner reported his fee for the projects would be eight percent of the construction cost.

The superintendent said Tuesday that the district can only seek a maximum of $2.5 million in such bond issue.

He explained that amount is regulated based on the district's total assessed valuation, which is now about $37 million; interest; and principle payment amounts.

Sausage has been a popular food ever since the days of the ancient Greeks and Romans; in fact, in the days of Julius Caesar, sausages had become so much a part of riotous festivals that they were barred in the Christian era, so were "bootlegged."

Eventually the ban was lifted, and people could once again enjoy the tasty and varied sausages without running afoul of the laws of the day. More and more varieties were developed in the Middle Ages... smoked, cooked or dried according to the area and its climate.

It was the American Indians who introduced sausage to our country, making a primitive sort of sausage cake from dried beef and berries. And, of course, with the influx of European immigrants to this land, sausages have become an important part of our national cuisine.

CLASSROOM COMPUTERS

"Nova" looks at computers in the classroom, specifically the Turtle, at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 25 on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The Turtle was invented by Dr. Seymour Papert, a computer scientist and former director of MIT's artificial intelligence lab. He also is the inventor of Logo, a high-level programming language so vast and yet so simple to use that it could one day be as much a staple in schools as blackboards and chalk, "Nova" predicts.

Papert developed the Turtle robot as a playful adjunct to Logo. Computers, he says must be fun: if they merely replace talk and chalk, they only reinforce authoritarian teaching and make learning more passive.

For example, at the Cotting School in Boston, severely handicapped children draw pictures with the Turtle, and an autistic child finds a medium for his trapped intelligence.

Thank you!

The Southern Highway District has a modern highway system that we can all be proud of.

I thank you for allowing me to serve another four year term.

We've come a long way in rebuilding our highway system. There's still a lot to do, but I will continue to be on the job using a businessman's approach and making sure we get a dollar and a dime's worth of highways for every dollar spent.

Highways are vital to our economy and we'll continue to keep building better highways for Mississippi.

The pecans have finally begun to fall and we are happy to see them ripen.

It seems they are a little late this season, or it could be that we like to eat them so much.

We have been getting mixed reports on the crop for this year, as many pecans fell during the dry season.

We are in hopes everyone will get a good crop for those holiday goodies.

We are always hearing about how small a world it really is about us.

We came across a magazine titled 'Milwaukee', which has a very long article on one of our former high school classmates.

The article is about Dr. Donald Levy, a former resident of Bay St. Louis and graduate of St. Stanislaus.

The article refers to Levy as being one of the nation's leading plastic surgeons, and how some of his clientele are from Hollywood.

We were happy to read the nice article about Donald, and are glad he is successful.

A few months ago Donald was in the Bay and visited us for a bit.

His mother still resides in Bay St. Louis and we know she is proud of his fame.

We hope to see Donald later this year when he visits the Bay.

Friday night football action will see the Hancock North Central Hawks visiting Mercy Cross in Biloxi.

Irvin Favre's Hawks have been playing very good football this season and should chalk up another victory.

Good fan support of the Hawks has helped Hancock according to Coach Favre, and we hope many supporters will journey to Biloxi on Friday.

It will be Homecoming for St. Stanislaus on Friday when they host East Central.

Many homecoming activities are scheduled through the week for students, former graduates and friends of Stanislaus.

The stadium should be filled for the game Friday, and we are hoping Coach Vernon Powell's Rocks will put another game in the victory column.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will journey to Vancleave on Friday.

The Bulldogs should give the Pirates a good game, but, Pass Christian could be victorious.

It has been an up and down season for Pass Christian, and they should be up for Vancleave.

The Tigers of Bay High will get a rest this week with an open date.

This should give Coach Snuffy Smith an opportunity to prepare for the Hawks of Hancock next week.

Bay High like Hancock North Central has had a very good season and next week's game should be a good one.

Remember, kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night.

Matters of Health

PREGNANCY OVER 35

Women over 35 who are pregnant may have a happy, health pregnancy with no problems. Like women of any age, however, pregnancy may involve complications—and women over 35 are more likely to develop these than younger expectant mothers. And the older a woman, the greater her risk is of having a baby with birth defects.

Diabetes is one complication whose risk increases with a woman's age. Pregnancy adds stress to all the body's organs, including the pancreas, a gland that secretes insulin, which regulates the blood-sugar level. Though diabetes can occur at any age, a woman over 35 is more susceptible to it.

Another medical problem whose risk is greater in pregnant women over 35 is toxemia, which involves hypertension, or high blood pressure. It is common in pregnancies of older women, of daughters of women who've had it, and in women who have diabetes, kidney disease or chronic hypertension. Its cause is unknown, but toxemia can be detected through blood pressure and urine tests.

Ectopic pregnancies are also more common in older women, in black women and in women with previous ectopic pregnancies or earlier diseases of the reproductive system. An ectopic pregnancy occurs when a fertilized egg fails to reach the womb and instead begins to develop in an ovary, fallopian tube, or some other location outside the uterus.

Healthy older women do not have more miscarriages than younger women. But they may have more problems during birth, such as a poorly positioned baby or prolonged labor because the mother's muscle tone may not be good and may result in weak birth contractions.

The most common birth defect in babies born to older women is Down's Syndrome or mongolism, a defect characterized by physical malformation and mental retardation. The chances of a child being born with this defect increase markedly with a woman's age.

At age 23, the mother has only a one-in-1,500 chance of giving birth to a Down's syndrome baby. By age 38, she has more than twice the risk, and by age 40, she has at least 15 times the risk.

Now a test called amniocentesis is given routinely to pregnant women over 35 during the 15th or 16th week of pregnancy to discover some birth defect in the unborn child. The test involves taking a small sample of the fluid surrounding the unborn baby by withdrawing it through a needle inserted into the womb through the mother's abdomen.

This fluid is then analyzed for signs of birth defects, such as mongolism and open spine defect. The procedure is performed on an outpatient basis.

Good health care during pregnancy is important at any age. Every woman should see her doctor early when she is pregnant, and regularly throughout her term. But it is particularly important for the woman over 35. If she does develop complications or is likely to, proper care can greatly reduce problems for her and her baby.

The People's Business

TORCH IS PASSED

A group of 30 young Mississippians, all emerging leaders in various business and professional interests, and representing every geographic section of the state, began a quiet but intensive five-month leadership skill training exercise in Jackson last week.

The 30 make up the tenth class of delegates to the Mississippi Economic Council-sponsored "Leadership Mississippi" Program, a program designed to identify and train the state's emerging leaders.

It was 10 years ago that the Council, then in its 25th year, committed itself to the training of new, young leadership for both the Council and for the state. Since that time, more than 350 Mississippians, maximum age 35, have moved through the training program. And, where are they now?

Several are in the Legislature; others are serving as mayors of their towns or cities. Some are in the state capital, serving either by election or by appointment.

Many are managing their businesses or practicing their professions, but also serving their communities through volunteer acceptance of civic responsibilities. They are presidents of chambers of commerce, chairmen of industrial development committees, officers in civic clubs, members of school boards, and officers of educational associations.

It is well to note that in the tenth anniversary year of the "Leadership Mississippi" Program that, indeed, the torch has been passed to a new generation of leadership for the state and for its communities.

And, with new leadership, comes new vision, new hope, new dedication, and new commitment.

Report of missing child deserves

October 17, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

In the Sunday, October 16 edition of your newspaper, I found a very small notice tucked away on page 5 about Stephanie Ducote, who at that time had been missing for four days. You noted that a public plea was issued for information about the whereabouts of the child.

Is a plea for a missing child only worthy of page five space? With the staggering number of children in our country who are missing now, fates unknown, dare we be responsible for not making the most of an opportunity to help find the child locally?

A newspaper is a powerful tool which should be used for the betterment of the community it serves.

If a life in possible jeopardy is not "Front Page News" the tool is not being utilized correctly and I definitely think we need to re-evaluate our priorities.

My prayers are with Stephanie's parents for the safe return of their daughter, and my plea is to you, if she is still not safe-at home at this time: put her picture and the particulars of the case on page one and if any of the good citizens of our community can come to the aid of those searching for Stephanie, they will.

Sincerely,
Mary Gobert

IN CONGRESS

By Cong.
Trent Lott

THE PEOPLE PAY THE PRICE

Its liberal leadership has worked to pass through the House a series of bills that could add more than $11.8 billion to already-exorbitant federal spending levels.

As one who has been interested for years in cutting spending and reducing the deficit, I think it is ironic that some of the wildest spenders in Congress suddenly have developed an interest in deficits.

That interest, as late as it is, is commendable. But, they still refuse to see the logic of cutting spending to reduce the deficits. They continue to want to increase spending, apparently by raising taxes.

A glance at the House floor schedule over the past couple of weeks reveals six examples where the Democrat majority has worked to increase spending:

- An additional $1.6 billion in the Vocational Rehabilitation Act;
- Between $150 million and $200 million more in the Trade Adjustment Assistance Act;
- An additional $1.3 billion for the Departments of State, Justice and Commerce;

- an additional $3.5 billion for the Departments of Labor and Health and Human Services;
- An additional $300 million for the Federal Communications Commission; and,

- An additional $5 billion in make-work "jobs" legislation contained in the bill which reached the floor.

The liberal Democrats prefer to deal with the deficit by, as usual, raising taxes and cutting defense. But, in fact, neither of those are being applied against the deficit.

They are being applied to higher and higher federal spending, a fact in which I find a great deal of hypocrisy. This was especially apparent last June when the majority party in the House marched in lock step and voted to raise taxes on 8.1 million American families by an average of $654 per tax return.

Where were these people when we were trying to cut spending? Where were they when we were trying to pass a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution?

I'll tell you where they were. They were huddled with their small but vocal groups of special interests, plotting a political advertising campaign to discredit responsible conservatives who detect over-spending and have worked diligently to reduce it.

Now, they are trying to shift the blame, pointing fingers at the very conservatives who have been on the front lines of the fight to cut spending.

As I said in a speech on the House floor the other day, they are playing politics again, while the American people

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

IMPORTANCE OF RESERVISTS

Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) says Mississippi reservists "fulfill an important responsibility in helping meet the nation's defense needs."

Senator Cochran, a member of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on defense, noted "the citizen-soldier, typified today by our dedicated Reserve and National Guard forces, has been in the forefront of our efforts for peace and freedom since the founding of the Republic."

The Senator's comments came as he visited with officers and enlisted personnel of two Army Reserve units conducting weekend drills at Camp Shelby. Senator Cochran spoke with members of the 333rd Field Artillery Battalion, with units in Meridian, Waynesboro, Hattiesburg and Laurel, and the 848th Signal Battalion from Pascagoula.

About 500 reservists were involved in the weekend activities at Camp Shelby. He pledged to continue his efforts in Congress to help modernize and strengthen the nation's Reserve and National Guard forces. "You fulfill too important a role to have second-rate equipment and inadequate training, facilities and pay," he commented.

Later in the day, Senator Cochran was scheduled to address the annual meeting of the Pearl River Valley Electric Power Association at Columbia. The rural electric cooperative provides power to over 21,500 consumers in a 10-county area of South Mississippi.

In his remarks to the Pearl River Valley EPA, Senator Cochran said, "The progress our nation's farmers and rural residents have made the past 50 years would not have been possible without the service provided by our rural electric systems."

He pointed out that rural residents have been able to enjoy modern conveniences, and "the American farmer produces enough for himself and 76 others. In Russia, by contrast, a farmer can only produce enough for six others."

Moran case delayed

The trial of Alden (Bud) Moran scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 19 remains on the court calendar and may be conducted today.

Moran, charged on two counts of selling and delivering a controlled substance on Sept. 30, 1982, has been delayed by the murder trial of Henry firefighter, said Wednesday that faulty electrical wiring is the apparent cause of the blaze which destroyed the wood frame residence of Don Young located near Lee's Chapel No. Two Church.

She reported that no one was injured in the fire reported by neighbors.

The Mount Carmel Volunteer Fire Department assisted the Leetown unit in fighting the blaze, Lee said.

She said as the first firefighters arrived, the house was already 'fully involved' in flames.

KILN FIRE

An electrical wiring short is also the cause of another blaze earlier that evening which completely destroyed the home of the Ed Fayard family located on the east side of Hwy. 603 immediately north of Cuevas Junction in Kiln, Friloux reported.

Friloux said the three-alarm fire was reported at about 7:10 p.m. Friday.

Jeff Larson, Kiln Volunteer Fire Department chief, said Wednesday that the family had just finished supper and stepped outside when they discovered their home was burning.

The Waveland and Diamondhead Fire Departments joined the Kiln unit in the fire fight, but flames had already spread throughout the house as the firefighters arrived, Larson reported.

But the chief said they were able to save a nearby storage shed and keep a propane tank cooled to avoid an explosion.

He reported no one was injured.

BAYSIDE BLAZE

Another electrical wiring short caused a fire which destroyed a BaySide Park house Thursday night, Friloux reported.

The investigator said Tommy Maine Jr. narrowly escaped injury as he fled flames which rapidly spread through his Union Street home.

Friloux reported the two-bedroom wood-frame house burned to the ground quickly in spite of efforts to save it by the BaySide Volunteer Fire Department.

Bay library showing dinosaur footprint

By JOE PILET
If you have never seen fossilized fishes, tourmaline needles embedded in quartz, opalized bones or the footprint of a dinosaur, then there's a rare treat waiting for you in the display case at the Bay St. Louis public library.

The exhibit was made possible through the courtesy of Emory Pendergraft whose hobby and avocation is a study of rocks and minerals. It may be seen during library hours through Oct. 11.

A native of Wyoming,

Pendergraft is a master cabinet maker by trade with a busy workshop located at the corner of Main Street at Toume.

He grew up and was educated in the West and some of his fond and early recollections are of gathering and studying rocks which he later usually threw or gave away.

Now the specimen which he avidly collects or buys are carefully labeled and stored in his shop.

Some of the highly prized items are given a place of honor in the unique display case which he created.

A case made of fine mahogany and a monument to his capabilities as a designer of fine furnishings.

Pendergraft works in several woods but his favorite is mahogany or cherry.

Other pieces of his ever growing collection are crowded in show cases near the front of his shop.

On loan to the library are three double shelves of treasures, well labeled and including on the top shelf in addition to fossilized fish some obsidian in black, snowflake and mahogany colorings, turtilla agate, amethyst crystals, horn coral from Utah, garnets from Alaska, and tourmaline in shades of rose, green and black.

The middle shelf holds beautiful Brazeean agate, rare opalized bone, a small wheel display of precious gems which he faceted and also well polished cabochons (stones cut in convex shapes), topaz in blue and in golden hues, azurite, jade and —are ready for this? Fossilized hen eggs! At the end of the shelf are some fine examples of scenic jasper.

The lower shelf contains opalized petrified wood, a quantity of tourmaline as mined together with some that have been polished and fashioned into beautiful silver and turquoise pendants.

There is a small board display of tiger eyes, a "sow belly" amethyst and some perfectly beautiful Pacific Ocean blue lapis lazuli. Apache tears and Leopard skin stones complete the exhibit.

Pendergraft is not stranger to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. He came to Bay St. Louis in 1969 and has made a name for himself specializing in professional refinishing and restoration of antiques.

He skillfully designs and makes a variety of desks, including roll tops and arched officers, and his reproductions of Gothic and Federal and other periods of furnishings are attracting favorable attention.

Pendergraft's is a family business. Working with him are a daughter, Mrs. Linda Reed; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Wendy Journaman.

These eager and enthusiastic apprentices are the master's pride —and his hope for the future.

Mrs. Reed maintains a photo album with pictures of items made in the shop. They also own a movie camera and record high lights of rock-hounding trips West. Recently they made a tour West, camping along the way, for the purpose of attending Pendergraft's Washakie High School 50th anniversary reunion in Warland.

While on the trip there was a visit with Pendergraft's brother who owns a mine.

Mrs. Pendergraft, now retired, works occasionally. She answers the phone or greets a customer at times.

A native of Pass Christian, Mrs. Pendergraft is of Spanish-Indian ancestry and before retirement was a gifted ceramic artist.

Pendergraft's wide range of interest leaves little time for leisure.

The class, which will run weekly for three weeks, will be held in the classroom in the metal building to the rear of the hospital.

"The course will include discussion on such topics as exercising during your pregnancy, what to expect from your pregnancy, nutrition, labor and delivery," said Belinda Durbin, staff development director at Hancock General.

Mayor, councilman skip routine meet

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Mayor Larry Bennett, Councilman Sheldon Seuzeneau and attorney Joseph Gex were all absent from the Bay St. Louis City Council meeting Thursday, but the agenda for the 25-minute meeting was strictly routine.

After brief discussion, the council voted to accept bids under the 1982

Small Cities Program for the rehabilitation of the homes of Alfred Selles, Mrs. Edna Thornton and Mrs. Audrey Young Narvaez. Council members approved a partial payment of $1,216 to Mel's Electrical and Refrigeration service for work on the last set of rehabilitation projects. The council agreed to table bids for an audit of the Community Development Block Grant Program pending review and recommendation from City Clerk Eddie Favre.

Councilman Gene Taylor expressed concern about drainage problems at the Hancock Bank parking lot. He asked that City Engineer attend the November council meeting to discuss the problem so that it can be resolved before the first of the year.

Taylor also requested that the November agenda include a time estimate from Mayor Bennett for work on drainage projects in Ward 1 and 2, and that the mayor appoint a designee to the Waveland Wastewater Authority to attend those meetings that the mayor cannot attend.

City Clerk Favre noted that the final report on utility recommendations will be ready for the November meeting. In response to a query from Councilman Wilmer Seymour, Favre said installation for cable television is underway in the Seube and Bouslog areas.

The council rescheduled two meeting dates—setting Nov. 10 instead of Nov. 8 and Dec. 1 instead of Dec. 6.

THOSE LOVING EYES—Caged at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland and yearning for a good home are these cats and kittens. They are a few of several cats, kittens, dogs and puppies desperately in need of good homes before they are soon euthanized (put to death by painless injection). The shelter is overcrowded so that means more frequent euthanizations. For adoption information, please telephone the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0475 today. RSVP report

By Theresa James, Director
We want to thank all of our volunteers and others who helped make the bazaar held recently at the Senior Citizens Center a success.

Many of you baked desserts, donated white elephants and plants and worked hard that day to make it such a success.

We want to especially thank those who weren't able to come to the bazaar but sent articles to be sold.

We could not do this without your help.

Thanks to all of those who donated the articles which were raffled that day.

The winners include Frank Bussey, handmade shawl; Esther Bussey, purse; Pam Jones, clock; Ida Necaise, still life painting; Nina Garner, painting of roses; Edith Chevis, pillow cases; Geraldine Lang, pillow cases; and Pennie Ellis, 50/50 money collected.

Volunteers are busy helping non-profit agencies all over the county, and none are more busy than those who help man the Hospitality Center and Craft Shop on Hwy. 90.

Many volunteers do their share regularly, and have been helping faithfully for a number of years.

We have been fortunate in being able to add new volunteers when the regulars have been ill or away.

During the summer and fall many volunteers went away on vacations and we want to thank all of you who generously doubled up or filled in at other stations when we needed you.

When anyone has turned us down, it was because of a very good reason and we do appreciate your help, especially when we call on you with only an hour or two to get ready for your assignment.

We have had problems with delivering meals, taking blood pressures and helping at the Chamber of Commerce.

But you did come to our rescue and we thank you.

We recently acquired a new station, the Hancock County Animal Commission, on which Al Dumestre serves in addition to his duties with the Humane Society.

Several of our new volunteers have been helping the Humane Society with their adoption drive, raising money and with the new station for volunteers.

Christ Episcopal School. They are in need of "GGs," people to act as grandparents, uncles, aunts and friends to the children.

If any one is interested in working with children, please call the office and we will be glad to help.

We have one volunteer, Lea Baldenhofer, who will be helping the art teacher.

There are many opportunities for the elderly to share their love and knowledge with the children.

Last month we acquired nine new volunteers, making total of 310 volunteers.

The total hours served was 6,000, which is quite an impact on the quality of life in our community.

We try to emphasize that every act of kindness and help given to our neighbors is returned to us in the good feeling that we have done something to help others who may be less fortunate and in need of this service.

We want to thank the members of our advisory council for their help recently when the action state director and state program officer visited our program.

They also completed their annual evaluation of our program and Ethel Breaux compiled and filed a report with action.

Please call the office if you would like to serve at another station, put in some more hours, help with children or the elderly in nursing homes, address newsletters, color newsletters or any other teaching or helping project that interests you.

Also, if anyone who has reached the age of 60 and would like to volunteer to help our community, please call the office and talk to one of the staff, 467-4204.

James testified that he did not recall any other communication except for the inquiry about the Thunderbird's ownership, but on cross-examination by the defense he said he thought he heard Jordan say, over the radio, "That's my car. I'll check it out." or words to that effect.

Dave Murtagh, Hancock County deputy sheriff, testified that Hargett's body had bullet wounds in the hand, the chin and the side.

Other officials who took part in the investigation and testified Tuesday on behalf of the prosecution included John Wilkerson, Waveland patrolman, who photographed the scene and participated in an interview of Florence Jordan at the hospital shortly after the shooting; and Robert (Poochie) Tarravouille, Waveland investigator, and Alvin Ladner, Hancock County criminal investigator, who investigated the crime scene.

On cross-examination of the state's witnesses, Holloman elicited information that no request was made for a fingerprint check of Jordan's weapon. The prosecution witnesses agreed that the door jamb on the front door to the construction company had been broken and that the front office area of the building was in disarray, with a large coffee table and magazine rack overturned, magazines scattered, broken glass and a hatrack lying on the floor.

Character witnesses for the defense who testified Wednesday morning included Jordan's father, Monroe Jordan; Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams; Winston Ausmer, Pass Christian, a former teacher of Jordan's who also coached him in high school; Justice Court Judge Lee Klein; Cecil Marshall, Pass Christian, a fellow member of Jordan's Masonic Lodge No. 301; and Michael Bowser, Pass Christian, also a former teacher of Jordan's.

Testifying on her husband's behalf, Florence Jordan, 31, testified that Hargett was the pastor of the church that she, Jordan and their two children attend.

She also testified that she worked for Hargett at the construction office in 1976 and from 1978 until July of 1980 when she quit to resume school at Pearl River Junior College.

She testified that she and Hargett first became intimate in 1978 and that their affair continued until the time of the shooting.

She said she was worried about what would happen if Jordan learned of the affair but that Hargett said, "Don't worry about it. I can handle it."

Mrs. Jordan, who is still living with Jordan and is five months pregnant, said that she saw Jordan through the window when he arrived at the construction company, that she jumped up and ran to a corner of the room. Jordan entered and "just stood, looking at me."

Then, she testified, Hargett jumped up and ran towards Jordan, knocking over the coffee table, and grabbed Jordan from behind and "they started wrestling."

She testified that she "passed out after the first shot," and that Jordan was standing over her when she came to. At her request, Jordan helped her put her panties and slacks back on.

Then, after seeing Hargett's body on the floor for the first time, she passed out again, and did not remember anything further until she woke up in the hospital.

On cross-examination, Mrs. Jordan denied remembering any conversations with John Wilkerson and Sandra (Sam) Henley of the Waveland Police Department.

But during rebuttal testimony, Henley testified that she talked to Mrs. Jordan in the hospital that night and that Mrs. Jordan said that after she was shot, Jordan said to Hargett, "You're next."

On cross-examination, Henley said she did not know if Mrs. Jordan had been medicated at the time of the interview.

Holloman introduced hospital records with notations by the admitting nurse to the effect that Mrs. Jordan seemed "withdrawn, almost stunned, emotional."

The conflicting arguments of prosecuting and defense counsel involve several issues.

Did Jordan know about, or suspect, his wife's infidelity?

Was the moon shining on the night of Nov. 12, 1981, or was it dark? Some of the statements of police department and sheriff's personnel mention moonlight, but a Department of Commerce document introduced into evidence indicates that it was overcast.

Officials testifying for the prosecution did not have hand-written notes taken at the time of interviews with Jordan. Their typewritten reports were made the next day.

Was there, or was there not, a struggle for the gun?

BENEFIT SINGER—Paula Darline of New Orleans, a handicapped country music singer and song writer, will perform from her wheelchair with her band at the Kila Veterans of Foreign Wars Post for a benefit dance beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds from the event will help pay hospital bills accumulated by Joni Mauffray of the Fenton Community.

'Wait Until Dark' continues at Diamondhead tonight

The Diamondhead Little Theater, glowing with success from its first production, "Never Too Late" last night opened its second play "Wait Until Dark," Frederick Knott's suspense thriller.

Produced in cooperation with Dramatists Play Service, "Wait Until Dark" starring Julie Kraft will play again tonight and Friday evening.

This mystery is a masterfully constructed thriller which moves from one moment of suspense to another as it builds towards an electrifying, breath-stopping finale.

As an assurance that there will be sympathy along with tingling terrors, the objects of its sinister activities is a blind girl, but don't think she is to be pitied.

The intending victim is a courageous and enterprising young woman, who can handle a scoundrel better than the next one and finds the threatening forces of evil a challenge to her wits and guile, as well as a terrifying peril.

Even before she reaches her basement home in Greenwich Village, somewhat annoyed at her photographer husband for going on an assignment that evening, ominous things are taking place there.

Three slinking fellows have been lurking about. Although what they are searching for is merely a doll, it is important enough to them to have resulted in the killing of someone who has betrayed them.

It would be against all the rules to tell what happens in the course of the blind girl's next harrowing two days.

It should be enough to say that, with her husband still away on assignment, she has to fend off the mysterious bad guys with only some slight but valuable aid from a prying little girl who lives upstairs; and for all her skill and bravery the young wife is in for some frightening moments including a startling shock in the final act.

Cast members include Clem Acker in the role of Mike Talman — only one of the villains who seems to have a heart.

Jay Kraft portrays Mr. Roat, the slyest and most fearsome of the three.

Carlino is played by Ed Scanlan, who also designed the set for the production.

The husband is played by Buck Gamewell.

Rene Shaefer plays the precocious nine-year-old who comes to the aid the blind wife.

Reservations may be made by calling 255-1788 or 255-7702.

Diamondhead Dinner Theater is held at the Country Club. Doors will open at 8:30 p.m. A seated dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the curtain rises at 8:30 p.m.

Teachers support drug abuse education

Jim Britt, president of the Mississippi American Federation of Teachers, reports MAFT will support the television showing of "The Chemical People" and will assist in activities being planned by DREAM, the state coordinator for the TV special.

According to June Milam, director of DREAM (Drug Research and Education Association in Mississippi), coordinators are in the process of preparing outlines and procedures for communities to use to best implement a massive viewing of the program in areas throughout the state.

"The Chemical People," a two part series, will be aired on ETV on Nov. 2 and Nov. 9, in an effort to provide communities across the nation with an opportunity to combat school-age drug and alcohol abuse.

"Town meetings" will be used as a method of watching the programs. Persons will be designated as discussion leaders for the evenings with training provided prior to the airing.

Task forces will be formed during discussion time. The objective of the task forces will be to implement effective programs for combating juvenile drug and alcohol problems in the community.

"We are extremely pleased that MAFT affiliates have been asked to participate in helping to organize action in dealing with this serious problem," said Britt.

Teachers have been designated in each AFT local.

who will spearhead activities for the federation and who will work within their communities with the DREAM organization, he explained.

"The Chemical People" is being produced by WQED Pittsburgh and is funded by the-

Richard King Mellon Foundation and the Metropolitan Life Foundation.

For more information contact DREAM, Suite B, 1891 Lakeland Drive, Jackson, MS, 39216, or MAFT, P.O. Box 2065, Gulfport, MS, 39503.

ETV Brief

Life in the South during the Great Depression is depicted in photographs for a special documentary, "One Third of a Nation," at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 20 on the Mississippi ETV Network.

By the time Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated President in 1933, the South had become what he saw as "the nation's number one economic problem." In one of his speeches, FDR said, "I see one-third of the nation ill-housed, ill-clad, ill-nourished," and much of that third was below the Mason-Dixon Line.

Narrated by James Dickey, "One Third of a Nation" takes its substance from period photographs and songs in the Library of Congress collections. More than 400 photographs and nearly three dozen folk songs combine to create an impressionistic journey through the South during those hard-luck years from 1935 to 1945.

REGIONAL SAILING CHAMP—Rod Stieffel of Bay St. Louis placed first in 1983 Sunfish Southeast Regional Sailing Championships hosted Saturday and Sunday by the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. A computer programming student at Jeff Davis Junior College, the 21-year-old Stieffel out-sailed 22 participants from the five Gulf Coast states in the prestigious event. His victory here qualifies him to participate in World Sunfish Sailing Championships on the French Riviera in 1984. Second place in the regional races went to Stieffel's younger brother Dennis. Fourth place was taken by Peter Merrifield, also of Bay St. Louis. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Eagles roost with Wave

From Sept. 17 until Oct. 22 is a long time between home games on anybody's football schedule, even when the slate includes an open date.

Such is the situation for the University of Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles, who will host arch rival Tulane University Saturday night.

The Birds last played in Roberts Stadium Sept. 17. They were idle Sept. 24 and since have been away from their home park for games at Oxford, Jackson and Memphis.

Tulane, meanwhile, has alternately been at home and away—at home against Florida State Sept. 17, and then on the road against Kentucky, at home against Vanderbilt, on the road against Memphis State and at home last weekend against Southwestern Louisiana.

The Eagles and Tulane's Green Wave have each played against Ole Miss, Mississippi State and Memphis State. USM, 5-1 on the year, has beaten all three, while Tulane, 3-4, beat Ole Miss but lost to the other two.

But, as fans from both sides totally agree, forget scores or outcomes of other games when their clubs tangle. There have been only four previous games and all have been of the closely-contested variety. Last year's outcome, for instance, was in doubt until USM posted its final TD in a 22-10 win with 34 seconds remaining.

The Eagles have won three of the four games, by a 17-14 count in 1980 and a 21-3 score the following year, in addition to their '82 win. Tulane won the series opener 20-19, in 1979—in USM's Roberts Stadium, where the fifth game of this fierce rivalry will be staged Saturday. Only the '81 game missed going down to the wire.

This long-sought-after grid match-up between neighboring schools that have competed regularly in other sports thus has been well worth waiting for.

Kickoff time Saturday night will be 7 p.m.

Bay High hosts Yellow Jackets

By RANDY PONDER
The streaking Bay High Tigers will be looking for their fifth straight victory when they host the St. Martin Yellow Jackets Friday night in Tiger Stadium.

Allowing slightly less than seven points per game, the Tigers have the best defense in the highly competitive Deep South Conference. Coach James (Snuffy) Smith's squad has posted three shutouts while compiling a 6-1 record. The one loss, a 23-7 whipping by DSC leader Pearl River Central, dropped the Tigers out of first place.

After a slow start, the Bay High offense is beginning to get on track. A fact to which the 23-0 blasting of Long Beach two weeks ago will attest. The Tigers average 12 points per game.

Penalties have been a trouble spot for Bay High all season. In the East Central game last week, for instance, the Tigers were penalized for well over 100 yards. They were called for everything from roughing the passer to unsportsmanlike conduct for being tardy for the start of the second half.

The Friday game with St. Martin is not listed on the schedule. The contest was announced after the posters were printed. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Gulfview Bulldogs win homecoming

The Gulfview Bulldogs earned their fourth win in five starts in a Monday night homecoming game against the Charles B. Murphy Rockets, 26-6.

The Bulldogs took the opening kick-off and drove down the field to score on a 12-yard run by Brian Meyers. The extra point was no good.

Guy Graham kicked off for the Bulldogs and the short kick was recovered by end Robert O'Hern.

The Gulfview team made another drive down the field with good runs by Gary Mitchell and Tim Cox with the ball again taken into the end zone by Meyers on a 23-yard run. The extra point attempt was stopped short.

Graham scored for the Bulldogs just before the half and also ran in for the two-point conversion making the halftime score of Gulfview 20-CBM 0.

During the second half play, the offenses hit hard, and several turnovers occurred.

O'Hern intercepted a pass, John Mayne recovered a fumble and Meyers picked off a lateral and rambed for a score from 70 yards out.

Late in the fourth quarter the Bulldog's again intercepted a pass this time by Destre Dedeaux. The Rockets scored from the six-yard-line bringing final score to 26-6. The Bulldogs travel to Hancock North Central Monday night to take on the 1-3 Hawks and the Bulldogs 4-1 record will be tested. The game starts at 6 p.m.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

The homecoming event was heralded with seventh and eighth grade maids riding across the football field in new automobiles.

Former Queen Tammy Ladner was escorted by W.H. Haddock, Gulfview principal.

Reigning 1983-84 Homecoming Queen Missy Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thornton, was escorted by her father and Myers.

The seventh grade maids were Jill Forrest, Penny Ladner, Malinda Winingham and Sheila Smith.

The eighth grade maids were Leslie Ladner, Dawn Lang and Dotsie Nussbaum.

The football team escorts were seventh graders Marty Smith, Guy Graham, Tim Cox and Keith Sellier, and eighth graders Robert O'Hern, Brian Lusich and Jerry Peterson.

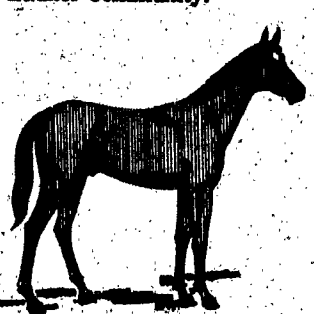

Flowers were presented to Thornton by the former queen and Haddock-crowned Thornton 1983-84 queen.

Flower bearer was Gwen Lang, crown bearer was Todd Shiyu, flag carrier was Paul Byrd and school banner carriers were Destre Dedeaux and Keith Cavalier.

The Homecoming court was directed by Gay Lusich.

Autumn Horse Trials slated at Equine Inns

Some 32 riders from three states are entered in Autumn Horse Trials Saturday at Equine Inns, Inc. in the Ladner Community.

THOROUGHBRED

Proceeds from the event will go to St. Williams Catholic Church there.

The event is sanctioned by U.S. Combined Training Association and is an entry-level trial for U.S. Olympic equestrian competition.

Barbara O'Meally, owner of Equine Inns, said events Saturday will get underway at 7:30 a.m.

Food and beverages will be available on the premises, she added.

Riders will range in age from 10 to 70 years with mounts composed of a variety of breeds, including thoroughbreds, mixed-breeds, Arabs and others.

Serving as judges at some 12 steeplechase jump stations will be members of Dedeaux CYO under direction of Phil Cyr, CYO advisor.

GOOD HANDS—Bay High receiver Willie Lewis, 30, makes a tough catch in heavy traffic as team-mate Darren Smith, 11, runs interference behind the play. Lewis managed to hang on to the football as East Central defenders Thad Burroughs, 21, and Darnell Jones, 11, arrive about the same time as the ball.

Burroughs, with his hand raised, failed in his attempt to knock the ball away. The Tigers won the homecoming contest, 17-7, last week at Tiger Stadium. Friday they will host the St. Martin Yellow Jackets in a nonconference game. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. (Echo photo by Randy Ponder)

Soccer opener features dozen games

The first full weekend of soccer for Bay Area Youth Soccer was graced with beautiful weather and some good soccer. In the Under 8 Division Coca Cola started the season with a 4-0 win over Pat Corbell's team. In the second game Hancock Bank and Nell Frisbie Realtors played to a 1-1 tie.

In the Under 10 Division Loiacano's Health Spa picked up where they left off last year with a 3-0 decision over Siroin Stockade. McDonald's Restaurant easily downed Dillmann Roofing 8-0, but the girls played much tougher in the second half, allowing only one goal. Bernard Construction defeated Thomas Murphree, D.D.S. 4-1, and in the finale Hancock General Hospital edged past McDonald Realty 1-0.

The Under 12 Division was a cast of Pete and Repeat as both games resulted in identical scores. In the first game it was Edmond Fahey Funeral Home playing Pat's Chevron to a 2-2 tie, and then Dental Health Service and Parker's Hardware repeated.

In the Under 14/16 Division Alcan Cable hosted an Ulder 19 team from Picayune and played very well before being edged out 3-2. Then Gulf Coast

Playoffs to determine select teams

The Mississippi Youth Soccer Association (MYSA) is implementing a new system for selecting players for MYSA State Select teams in the Under 14, 16 and 18 age divisions.

The new process calls for selection of district teams from the four districts within the state.

These teams will compete in a round-robin tournament where the state select teams will be chosen.

The Southern District, which includes Bay Area Youth Soccer among other Clubs, will hold tryouts for the Under 14 age division at Ocean Springs on Sunday from 1:30-5:30 p.m. at Freedom Field, corner of Pershing and Porter Avenues, two blocks east of City Hall.

Those boys who were born on or after August 1, 1969 and who are American citizens are eligible to try out for the team.

All participants should wear appropriate attire and shoes, and should bring also a soccer ball.

If a player is selected for a district team and subsequently a state team, the player must commit himself to participate in and pay required expenses for team practices, district team tournaments and the United States Soccer Association Region III tryout camp in North Carolina.

Pass Pirates to contend with fast moving Bulldogs

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Pass Christian High School Pirate Head Football Coach Kenneth McKinney expects a strong rushing offense by the Vancleave High School Bulldogs Friday night.

The Pirates will journey to Vancleave for the evening game beginning at 7:30 p.m. "Vancleave mostly runs and mixes up the game with passing," the head coach said

Tuesday based on scouting reports.

Although he did not know the team's win-loss record, McKinney stated, "They've played everybody tough, they're real quick and well coached."

"Here again this Friday, there's no rest for the weary," he added. McKinney said backfield player injuries continue to plague the Pirates with Wide

Out and Defensive Back Mark Boyd possibly benched with a dislocated shoulder, Back Pat McDonald suffering a persistently inflamed dislocated elbow, Back Dwayne Lizana will again probably be benched with a chronic knee injury, and Tight End and Linebacker Rodney Conway is limping and may also not play Friday night.

"We're just hanging in there in the back field," the head coach stated.

The Pirate line continues to be the mainstay of the team, McKinney reported.

He said the only hurt lineman is Offensive Center and Tackle Perry Young who is also suffering a knee injury.

Bulldogs continue 'David And Goliath' season against Top-10 Auburn Saturday

They may both be land grant universities, but it's a certainty that quality "real estate" will be at a premium against both defenses when Auburn hosts Mississippi State Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

It will be the Bulldogs' second Southeastern Conference road test of the year, and State (2-4 overall and 0-2 in the SEC) gave Georgia a run for its money before falling 20-7 at Athens on Oct. 1.

Auburn, meanwhile, enters the action with a 5-1 record, a Top 10 rating in both wire service polls, a 2-0 league mark, and much at stake as it plays its SEC home opener.

Coach Pat Dye's Tigers, a triple option team such as the MSU crew, feature the "Mr.

Inside—Mr. Outside" combination of halfbacks Bo Jackson and Lionel James along with the steady plugging of fullback Tommie Agee.

Jackson presents the Bulldogs with the task of stopping a player with 508 net yards on 79 carries and seven infantry touchdowns while James, who ran for 138 yards on 20 tries in a 35-17 AU win over State last fall, is the outside threat with 335 yards on 61 carries this year for a 5.5 average.

State, which ran some multiple formations last week in a 31-7 loss to bone-tough Miami (Fla.), relies on the steady hand of quarterback John Bond.

The 6-4 senior quarterback from Valdosta, Ga., is about to become the university's first 6,000-yard career total offense performer with 5,885 career yards prior to the clash with the Tigers.

He has already rushed for 1,926 yards (most by any SEC quarterback in a career and started his 39th consecutive game for the Bulldogs in spite of an injured elbow and sore shoulder suffered in the MSU-Southern Mississippi clash.

Bond, a 210-pound option ace, broke Walter Packer's career record (1973-76) for most carries when he lugged the oval 11 times against Miami to give him 485 ball totes since 1980. Packer had 483 rushing attempts for an MSU-record 2,820 yards while Bond's rushing tally is fourth-highest in MSU records.

Senior cornerback Kenneth Johnson of Weir leads a three-senior, one-junior secondary into the encounter.

PRC Wildcats struggling to salvage winning season

J. C. Arban and his Pearl River College Wildcats are backed about as far against the wall as they can get. Gone are the thoughts of winning the South Division and a state playoff position. Long gone are visions of national recognition and post season play.

All that's left now is to have a winning season. And for that to happen the Wildcats must win their last three ballgames. It's down to three and counting.

This past Saturday arch-rival Gulf Coast defeated the Wildcats 28-7 in the Doble Holden Stadium.

The loss was PRC's fourth against only two wins and a tie.

Pearl River fans, unlike many other junior colleges, have more than one guidepost to determine whether or not their beloved Wildcats have had a successful season.

Of course, the first measure is whether or not they win the South, play for the overall state crown and receive a bowl invitation and national ranking.

Another measure is their outcome against rivals Jones and Gulf Coast. Earlier in the year the maroon and gold lost to Jones 24-14.

Now the only way left to salvage an already disappointing season is a winning record. If the Wildcats defeat Southwest, Co-Lin and Holmes in succession they can have just that, a winning 5-4-1 mark.

During the past 37 years the Wildcats have had only two losing seasons. Back in 1978 the Wildcats were 4-5-1 and then in 1980 the 'Cats were 0-10. To find another losing season you have to go all the way back to 1945.

The good news is that the Wildcats can have a winning season. The bad news is that after Gulf Coast's routing there are four more players out for the season. More banged up pretty good players.

This gives the Wildcats a grand total of 11 players definitely out, two doubtful and 10 questionable.

Defensive tackle Jeff Waits suffered a broken arm against Gulf Coast and defensive end Matt Seals has a broken leg. Dennis LaCoste of Hancock North Central and George Roy, a guard from Carriere have injured knees.

Other Wildcat players who have been injured during the year are Roy Travis, Richard Bryant, Jack Kilpatrick and DeNeal McEmore.

Fullback and punter Scott Semner and guard Denis Coriel didn't play last week because of leg injuries.

"We have to take what is left, line them up and try to prepare mentally," said Arban. "Southwest, even though they have not won a ballgame, will give us a lot of problems."

"We're fighting for our lives," Arban said. "The Bears have a good defense, but the offense has been like ours, sputtering all season long."

Captains for this week's game include Doug Brewton, Columbia; Mark Glover, Summa, Ala.; and Kelvin Alford of West Marion.

Outstanding players this past week include John Henry, defensive back; Richard Hathorn, offensive back; Kyle Dossett, offensive lineman; Clay Squires, defensive lineman and Tommy Lindsey,

SATURDAY'S LOSS

Entertaining the nationally ranked and once-beaten Bulldogs from Gulf Coast Junior College, the Wildcats took on the appearance of a punching bag for the 18th-ranked bullies from Perkinson.

Dubbed as "shootout No. 2" for the Wildcats, Saturday's South Division contest soon became "shootdown No. 2" for Coach J. C. Arban's faltering Wildcat team.

Gulf Coast, one of two annually played arch-enemy opponents for Pearl River, followed in the footsteps of PRC's other arch-rivals from Jones Junior College by busting loose in the second half and coasting to a 28-7 win.

Jones scored 17 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to topple the Wildcats 24-14, while Gulf Coast put together nearly 300 yards in total offense in the second half en route to Saturday's lopsided win.

PRC, who is still looking for its first South Division win, dropped its record to 2-4-1 overall and 0-3-1 in the division. Gulf Coast, a team which is still very much in the running for the divisional title, raised its record to 6-1 overall and 3-1 in the conference.

The Wildcats gave the Bulldogs an ample opportunity to put the game's first touchdown on the board when PRC's punter Darrell Perkins watched a snap from center sail over his head, Perkins picked up the ball, but was buried in a sea of Bulldogs at the PRC 19.

Three plays later, Gulf Coast's David Russell banged over from the 1 and Bobby Murrah booted the extra point kick to give the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead with 6:31 left in the opening quarter.

The Bulldogs' defense provided Gulf Coast with a second-quarter score as defensive tackle Steve Davis, who fell on two PRC fumbles, pounced on a fumble by PRC's quarterback Darren Brock in the end zone. Murrah again kicked the extra point as the Bulldogs took a 14-0 lead into the dressing room at intermission.

Despite trailing by two touchdowns, the Wildcats defensive unit had limited the Bulldogs to a mere five first downs and 83 yards of offense in the first two quarters.

The second half, however, was a totally different story. Despite racking up 130 yards in penalties and converting on only 2-of-16 third-down conversions in the game, the Bulldogs chalked up 282 yards in total offense during the second half alone.

The Wildcats, who were plagued by four turnovers in the second half, avoided the shutout when Ricky Myers scored on an 11-yard run with 11:27 left to go.

Mississippi Power 1983

IT WAS SIMPLE TO KEEP COOL. ELECTRIC FANS. LEMONADE. AND MOST AIR CONDITIONING WAS AT THE MOVIES.

Fighting stopped in Korea. Old Casey's Yankees beat Brooklyn's Dodgers for a record fifth straight World Series. 3-D movies were the new craze. Crewcuts, pony tails, and the bunny hop were the rage. And attic fans were the last word in home cooling comfort.

It's hard to realize it now, thirty years later. But, home air conditioning used to be very rare—only for the well-to-do.

Today, it's so commonplace, most of us think it's a necessity. And our grandparents would be amazed to see us getting through a summer's day in southeast Mississippi without even working up a sweat.

That's why, today, air conditioning counts for about half of your summer electricity bill. And Mississippi Power customers use about 20% more electricity than the national average, specifically because of air conditioning.

You're paying more because you're purchasing more kilowatt-hours. And because we're paying more to make and deliver electricity to you.

Can we offer you any comfort? This chart illustrates what has happened to other consumer costs during the last thirty years.

Price Increases Since 1953	Up
Peanut Butter	383%
White Bread	257%
Gasoline	365%
Movie Ticket	413%
Home Purchase	226%

Also, while our average cost of fuel per kilowatt-hour has more than quadrupled since 1973, our price per kilowatt-hour has barely doubled since 1953. Most other goods and services can't claim that.

Another way to stay cool about power costs is to take out your last Mississippi Power bill and break it down for yourself.

Divide by the number of days each month and the number of people in your household. The result is your average electricity cost per person, per day, and might look something like this:

EXAMPLE
$140.00 Mississippi Power Bill	+ 30 Number of Days per Month	+ 4 Number in Household	= $1.17 A Day per Person for Electricity

Electricity from Mississippi Power. Good value in '83. A better value in '85. Even with the air conditioner keeping you very, very cool.

One of a series. If you have a question about your electric service or Mississippi Power, call or write. The address is on your bill stub.

Ole Miss Homecoming, high school-juco day coincide

Students from more than 600 high schools and junior colleges in Mississippi and eight other Southern states have been invited to attend The University of Mississippi's annual High School-Junior College Day Saturday.

Oct. 22 also will mark the celebration of Homecoming on the Ole Miss campus, and a wide variety of activities have been planned for visiting students and alumni.

The day will commence officially with welcoming ceremonies at Fulton Chapel scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m.

Afterwards, visitors will have the opportunity to purchase $1 tickets for the Ole Miss versus Vanderbilt football game and to view academic displays in the Ole Miss Union until noon.

Live entertainment will get underway in The Grove at 10:30 a.m. and will feature musical, theatrical and dance performances by campus organizations, including the Black Student Union Choir and University Dancers.

The university will observe open house throughout the morning for the High School-

Junior College Day participants. Students will be afforded the opportunity to visit research and academic buildings of their choice, and the Ole Miss Ambassadors will be available to conduct campus and dormitory tours.

"Not only will this be a day of exciting events, it will be an excellent opportunity for students preparing to enter a university setting to ask questions about financial aid, career options and training, as well as student life and academic offerings," said Beckett Howorth, director of pre-admissions at Ole Miss.

"Student participants and visitors are encouraged to talk with professors and tour academic facilities," he said. Kickoff for the Rebel's Homecoming shootout with the Commodores of Vanderbilt will be at 1:30 p.m.

half-time festivities will include the presentation of the Homecoming Queen and court, and entertainment by the Pride of the South Marching Band, under the direction of Dr. Luther Snively.

Over 2,200 participants are expected to visit the Ole Miss campus for this event, according to Howorth. "We are expecting students from throughout the state and from Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky, Missouri, Louisiana, Alabama, Texas and Florida," he said.

"We encourage and invite any college-bound student to come share in this day with us."

Additional information is available from the Pre-Admissions Office at Ole Miss, telephone (601) 232-7378; toll-free in Mississippi 1-800-222-5102.

Avoid coffee nerves

Studying all night? Go easy on caffeine

Coffee nerves are a symptom of too much caffeine. College students often experience that jittery feeling after too much late night coffee drinking while hitting the books.

A food technologist with Mississippi State University said for some people certain amounts of caffeine can increase heartbeats, promote secretion of stomach acid, step up urine production and increase basal metabolic rates.

Dr. Charles Shannon, a Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food technologist, said coffee dilates blood vessels in some people and causes vessels to contract in others.

"There is no persuasive evidence that moderate amounts of caffeine are harmful to the average healthy adult," Shannon said.

He said a recent summary from the Institute of Food Technologists (IFT) also supports the idea that moderate caffeine is not harmful.

"Many questions are still unanswered concerning the safety of caffeine, but in general, moderate consumption presents little, if any, threat to human health,"

Shannon said. Although caffeine is generally associated with coffee, it is also found in tea, chocolate, cocoa and colas, all favorites of college students.

The IFT reports that the amount of caffeine in any single serving of these beverages varies, but generally the average serving of coffee contains the most.

Caffeine as found in cola-type drinks does not present a hazard to the public health. However, enough questions still exist to prompt more studies.

"Caffeine is also found in some over-the-counter drugs as well as some prescription drugs," Shannon said.

He notes that too much use of caffeine in some people in a short period of time will lead not only to coffee nerves, but also to anxiety, restlessness, headaches and heart palpitations.

The effect of caffeine is described as a lift and a feeling of being wide-awake with the ability to concentrate on physical and mental tasks such as studying.

"The feeling, however, is temporary, and soon a person will find himself back to his original state," Shannon said.

—Q. A year ago, I cosigned on a note with my cousin so that he could get credit to buy a used car.

Since then, he has left the state, whereabouts unknown, and has taken the car with him.

Now the bank is threatening to sue me if I do not pay them the balance of the loan, which is about $1,500.

This does not seem fair because my cousin has the car and I cosigned with him only so that he could get the loan.

Can the bank sue me over this?

—A. When you cosign a note with another person, you become equally responsible for the debt, even though you do not receive any of the proceeds of the loan.

The bank can require you to repay the loan, and can file suit against you if you do not pay. If the bank gets a judgment, your salary and bank accounts may be garnished, and your property may be levied against.

If you can locate your cousin, you can sue him to recover your losses.

HNC alumni group organization underway

The 1983-1984 Hancock North Central High School Student Council is spearheading organization of the school's first alumni association.

"Since we are celebrating the 25th anniversary of our school this year, we feel this is an opportune time to organize an alumni association," said Rance Necaise, student council reporter.

"We are trying to reach all HNC graduates to gather the necessary information, and we hope to announce a time and place for our first meeting sometime after Nov. 15," Necaise added.

"We would appreciate any help and support the alumni can give us in organizing an active association," he added.

Graduates interested in the new group should contact the school office before Nov. 15, the student council urges.

Jackson State schedules high school day Saturday

Activities will begin with registration at 8 a.m. in the T.B. Ellis Physical Education Complex. General information sessions will convene at 8:30 a.m. and continue through 10:30 a.m.

These sessions will include presentations and discussions by representatives from the various academic departments and service units.

Students will also have an opportunity to visit academic departments.

ASCS NEWS

LOCATE HAY

Although prolonged drought conditions have created hay shortage in some areas, other areas have a surplus of hay or other roughage.

To help livestock producers who need hay to locate sellers, and to help those with excess hay locate buyers, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is making an all-out effort to collect information concerning the need for or the availability of hay and other roughage in the area.

"The task has been given top priority," said Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS office.

"We are contacting other federal agencies, state departments of agriculture, hay dealer associations and all other available private sources for the names of producers with hay or other roughage for sale."

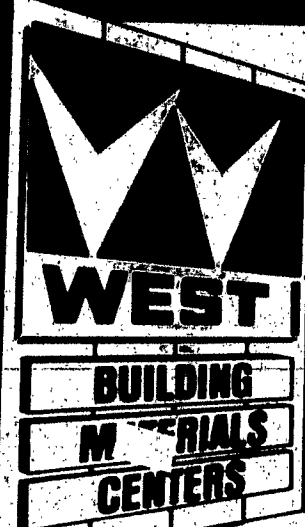

This listing will be maintained in our office for interested persons to review, he said.

The list of available hay and other roughages will include the producer's name, address and telephone number, the type or roughage, and the amount and approximate price.

Gennin said hay and roughage availability also will be monitored in surrounding states and counties.

"All livestock producers who are in need of hay, and those who have hay or other roughage for sale, are urged to contact our office as soon as possible," the ASCS official said.

The Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS office is located at 103 West Central Street and telephone is 786-4662. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., weekdays.
